

Giving our students access to the most powerful educational tool, the internet, is extremely important to our children's future and our country's future. Access needs to be provided to all educational institutions at all levels, and this access should be funded fully through the E-Rate program.